CONNIE MACK PICKS NATIONALS TO BEAT OUT AT LEAST TWO CLUBS

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 7.—"I wouldn't be a bit surprised to see Washington finish in the first division," said Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, here to-day.

"I regard Jimmy McAleer as one of the best managers in the American League. In Street, Washington has a great catcher. The pitching staff also has great possibilities. Walter Johnson has no superior, and Groom should win a lot of games. Unglaub, Schaefer, McBride, and Elberfeld compose a brainy infield. I expect to see them pull off a lot of inside baseball. The outfield is not to be sneezed at. Gessler, Lelivelt, and Milan are a hardhitting trio.

"In Killifer, McAleer has one of the best utility men in the league. I think at least two clubs will finish below the Nationals this year."
